

COOLIDGE PRAISES HERO FOR CIVIL WAR DEEDS

Speech at Colvill's Tomb Notes Passing of Sectional Feeling and Rise of United Nation

character displayed in an hour of great peril, but also the fact that he was a man of great courage and a man of great faith.

It is these qualities which bring the great courage of our citizens to do honor to the action of Col. Colvill and his regiment more than three score years after the event. That same honor will continue to be paid them not only so long as the nation which they served shall endure, but so long as self-sacrificing devotion to high ideals commands itself to the heart of man.

The story of Col. William Colvill and the First Minnesota Volunteer Infantry is well known to need extended repetition. When President Lincoln called for volunteers to prevent the dissolution of the Union, this was the first three-year regiment which gave valiant service upon many a resolutely contested field, but its most conspicuous record was made at Gettysburg on the second day of that decisive battle. When the forces under the command of Gen. Sickles advanced into action a little after noon, the First Regiment, of which only eight companies were present, numbering 322 men, took the position they vacated. The overwhelming force of the Confederates under Longstreet and Hill repulsed and drove back the command of Gen. Sickles and were advancing on the left flank of the Union army, which was in grave danger of being routed in defeat. It was at this juncture that Gen. Hancock ordered this depleted regiment to charge the advancing Confederates.

The gallant First Minnesota, led by Col. Colvill, at once responded.

with an impetuosity that broke the first and second lines of the enemy and stopped the advance. When the action was over but forty-seven of the 322 men who began the charge were still in line. The remainder, 215 lay dead or wounded on the field. In all the history of warfare this charge has few, if any, equals and no superior. It was an exhibition of the most exalted heroism against an apparently insuperable antagonism by holding the Confederate forces in check until other reserves came up. It probably saved the Union Army from defeat.

What that defeat would have meant to the North no one can tell. Philadelphia, New York and the whole heart of the North would have been open to invasion, and perhaps the Union cause would have been lost. So far as human judgment can determine, Col. Colvill and those eight companies of the First Minnesota are entitled to rank as the saviors of the country.

We may well stop to consider on this Sabbath Day what Power it was that stationed these men at this strategic point on this contested field, which held so much of the hope of humanity. We can only infer that it was the same Power which guided the path of the Mayflower, which gave our country Franklin and Washington, which brought this northwestern territory into the Union through the miraculous victory of George Rogers Clark at Vincennes and pointed it with a freedom-loving immigration, which raised up Lincoln and Grant, which went to the rescue of liberty in Cuba and on the fields of France. Was it not the same Power which set these men as its sentinels on that July day to guard the progress of humanity? As we behold it all we can but conclude in the words of the Holy Writ that the judgment of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

CONFLICT ARISES
The time has come when our whole country can take a more dispassionate view of the long train of events that led up to Appomattox and the new constitutional guarantee of freedom to every inhabitant under our flag. Our national life was begun with a compromise and a final decision of the principle of freedom or domination of the line separating the authority of the States and the authority of the Federal Government. Some of the ablest minds of the country honestly differed in their interpretation of our institutions. As the intensity of opinions and their application to the practical affairs of life of each side developed, they necessarily grew more and more divergent. It was what was described as an irrepressible conflict. That generation of the South found itself involved in a net of circumstances which very much of its best thought and energy was devoted to extricate itself. We can see now that instead of being charged with all the blame, they were in many ways entitled to sympathy. Our country was all involved in a great national tragedy from which it could extricate itself only by an appalling national sacrifice. That tragedy involved both the North and the South. The conditions which brought about the great conflict were national conditions. It was humanly impossible for either section of itself to furnish an adequate solution. If there was to be an extension of freedom under constitutional guarantees it had to be brought about by national action, any adequate solution required the cleansing of the heart of the whole nation. This could only be accomplished through an immeasurable sacrifice made in the tears of our women and the blood of our men.

GREAT TASK FACED
When the great tragedy was passed, when the tumult of the conflict had ceased, the North found itself depleted, but the South was entirely prostrated. It was under the necessity of rebuilding its whole social and economic structure. The recovery of the North began early, because it was not completely destroyed. It was well-nigh impossible. But the task was performed slowly and imperfectly at first, but in the end it was accomplished.

FORD UP AGAINST PROBLEM WHERE MONEY MAY FAIL HIM

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) July 29. (P)

For the first time since he became one of the world's richest men, Henry Ford is going to find his desires thwarted. Rhode Island millionaires and a bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church are prepared to give him battle with a little antiquated pipe organ now in the Christian Church at Portsmouth as the cause belli.

If the organ in question proves to be the organ which George B. Selley, Lord Bishop of Cloyne, presented Trinity Church, Newport, in 1833, and which was removed from the church many years later to make way for a larger and better one, Mr. Ford, who has entered into negotiations for its purchase, cannot have it, say Bishop Darlington of Pennsylvania, John Nicholas Brown, former Gov. of Rhode Island, and others.

If it proves not to be the Berkeley organ he will be allowed to take it away and thus add what undoubtedly is a treasure of its kind, even without definite historical connection, to his collection of antique musical instruments now housed in Dearborn, Mich.

His admiration for all that is heroic in life, to express our reverence for those who have made sacrifices for the well-being of their fellowmen, to renew our fealty to the principles which are the basis of the United States, to rejoice in the universal freedom which is guaranteed and in the perfect Union which has been achieved, and finally, for his blessings in gratitude and humility to acknowledge our dependence upon the Giver of every true and perfect gift.

EDWARDS HITS BACK AT BISHOPS

Jersey Senator Assails Four Methodist Prelates Opposing Gov. Smith

WASHINGTON, July 29. (P)—Senator Edwards, Democrat of New Jersey, issued a statement today condemning the four bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who are opposing Gov. Smith, on the ground that they are advocating "the union of church and state in so far as political Volsteadism is concerned."

"If the union of church and state," he said, "is a good thing for one religious denomination, it is good for all, whether its followers be Catholic, Jew or gentile. If the Catholic church should not participate in politics neither should the Protestant, and pronouncements of all the bishops of Methodism in the civilized world to the contrary cannot alter this fundamental law of sound reasoning."

Methodism, speaking through her bishops, is violating a cardinal principle of constitutional government in order that an unenforceable law may be jammed down the throats of the people. The Catholic church should not participate in politics neither should the Protestant, and pronouncements of all the bishops of Methodism in the civilized world to the contrary cannot alter this fundamental law of sound reasoning.

ASSASSIN TRIAL AT CRIME SCENE

Killer of Obregon Will Turned Over to Court

Eighteen Rebels Lose Life in Eight-Hour Frenzy

MEXICO CITY, July 29. (Exclusive)—President-elect Obregon, who turned over for trial to the District Court at San Angel, where the crime was committed.

This was announced today by Chief of Police Zervante of Mexico City, who said that at the time he will make an official statement giving the results of the official investigation of the assassination.

The newspaper Excelsior after a survey of the political situation declared that the various political groups that supported Obregon appear to be united with the Senate Governor of the State of Coahuila, Leon de la Barra, as leader. At Guadalajara a convention of the Federalists was called off today in order to avoid the possibility of a meeting until the situation is clear.

A delayed message to the Department today said that Obregon was captured in a clash with federal troops in the State of Coahuila last week.

The Federal forces were killed. The rebels were routed in an eight-hour battle near the town of Rio Verde.

DEMOCRAT TARIFF PLANK ASSAILED AS INSINCERE

Quotes Party's History to Warn Business Against Faith in Houston Promise

WASHINGTON, July 29. (Exclusive)—A solemn warning to the business community against placing too much confidence in the new-fangled attitude toward the tariff and business, was sounded by the Republican National organization today in a statement issued by Senator Rod Smoot of Utah.

Smoot pointed out the beginning of a major drive by the Republican party to show up the spurious character of the tariff position of the Democratic party at Houston and followed up by a "big bluff" through the selection of John J. Raskob, finance chairman of General Motors, as manager of Gov. Smith's campaign. Smoot reviews the tariff record of the Democratic party and declares it should serve to convince American business that the 1928 promises of the Democrats are not to be trusted. They have given pledges before, he points out, only to violate them as soon as they were in power. Business, he says, should repose its confidence in the party that always has given it tariff protection.

"The Democratic general this year are very cunning. However, they cannot cover up tariff history or trust about in sheep's clothing while the same old tariff-reform animal lurks underneath."

The Democratic tariff plank adopted at Houston sets forth that if the Democrats are placed in power tariff legislation will be based on "the maintenance of legitimate business and a high standard of wages for American labor; duties that are based on the actual difference between the cost of production at home and abroad."

But Senator Smoot analyzes the situation carefully and warns that the Democrats have used such tricks before.

"This declaration position of tariff policy to be inaugurated by the Democrats," he says, "is seized by many as an admission that the Republican protective policy is correct, and that the Democratic party will make no change."

"A page from the history of the first 'tariff-reform' experiment, will serve as a warning."

Grover Cleveland was elected largely on the promise that he would not, and his party would not, recommend any tariff legislation that would bring a depression to business. The people were led to believe that 'tariff reform' meant protection.

"The House was Democratic; and in 1896 the Democrats brought out the McKinley tariff bill, which largely the free list and frightened business to such an extent that the House, with a Democratic majority, refused to consider the bill."

However, business was not sufficiently warned, until December, 1897, when Cleveland sent a message to Congress in which he recommended 'tariff reform' or tariff reduction, to get rid of a surplus in the Treasury. His program was to add materially to the free list.

"In response to his message, the House reported out the Mills tariff bill. Chairman Mills of the Ways and Means Committee openly referred to the President's message as 'the free-trade message of President Cleveland' and added that his bill was reported 'in response to President's recommendations.'

"William McKinley made the minority report on the Mills bill, declaring that that measure proposed a 'radical reversal of the tariff policy of this country.'"

"The Cleveland-Mills tariff bill produced wool and twenty other farm products on the free list."

"This Democratic attempt to violate a Democratic tariff protection frightened the world and Cleveland was defeated and a Republican Congress with Harrison as President elected in 1898."

"The McKinley tariff of 1890 was made a law so soon before the 1892 Presidential election that little time was had to explain it or to witness its practical operation. Again the Democrats demanded 'tariff reform' and, despite the warnings in the proposed tariff legislation of the Cleveland administration the people re-elected Grover Cleveland."

"In 1894 'tariff reform' was the breath of life of the Democratic party. That party announced that the tariff must be destroyed and 'tariff reform' was the method. Yet, the first Cleveland administration, committed to no injury to business, proceeded to attempt to injure business. The Democrats were turned out and the Republicans reinstated in 1898. 'Tariff reform' in 1897 was a failure."

"Despite all warnings, the Cleveland program of 'tariff reform' was again triumphant in 1892."

PLEDGES VIOLATED

"The Democratic platform of 1892 also declared that the 'tariff reform' of the Democratic party meant no injury to business and labor. However, experience warned the business interest and Benjamin Harrison was elected President, and with him a Republican Congress."

"Again, in 1894, the Democratic party, once more in power, repudiated its promises of no injury to business."

"The 'tariff reform' bill, known when enacted as the Wilson-Gorman Act, trampled under foot the Democratic pledges of former years. It was a distinctly sectional bill, injuring the North but helping the South. It increased the revenue to make up the Treasury deficit of $22,000,000."

"The 'tariff reform' bill known as the Wilson-Gorman Act became a law without the signature of Cleveland. It was so devoid of 'reform' as to meet with the disapproval of the leader in 'tariff reform.' Cleveland did not dare to veto for political reasons, but let it become a law by default."

"Tariff reform brought business disaster for more than two years. Democratic disregard to party pledges brought the result expected. The confidence of the business world in the promises of the Democratic party was shaken, and in 1898 the party of 'tariff reform' was turned out, and the party of protection substituted. Confidence returned to the business world."

"Strangely enough, the Democratic party in 1896 abandoned 'tariff reform.'"

"The country settled not only the money, but the 'tariff reform' question in that year."

"This recital of the first 'tariff reform' experiment, and the repudiation of promises and pledges in the Democratic party should be a warning today. The Democrats

WHITE TO RIP SMITH'S VEIL

Kansas Editor Will Give Official Record, He Says, of Governor's Saloon Support

NEW YORK, July 29. (Exclusive)—William Allen White, Kansas editor, who has charged that Gov. Smith's record in the New York Legislature proves him consistently a friend of the saloon, will make public a detailed analysis of the Governor's record tomorrow night, he said tonight.

His decision to do this at this time was inspired, it is intimated, by the failure of Gov. Smith to reply yesterday or today to the new charges Mr. White already has made.

Referring to the Governor's early in photograph. Is he afraid of that record? He can do one of two things, face that record from his feet or from the ropes. The count has reached five."

"Tomorrow," Mr. White added tonight, "I shall offer the whole record of his votes on the saloon and its parasitic allies. I shall make public the record by days and by the identifying pages of the journal."

Mr. White intends to call for Europe on Wednesday.

control of big business and corrupt practices.

"The hopeless attempt of the Democratic party to prove it is not a menace to business is one of the comedies of the campaign. It would be only a comedy, were it not so serious. The history of the record of the Democratic party in its first gesture toward 'tariff reform' without injury to business or to labor, is a warning to business not to trust the promises and pledges of the same party, that has not changed its spots."

PORTERVILLE CONNECTS OLD PAST AND PRESENT

From Peace of Yacut Indians to Contentment of Today Noted
by 'Times' Feature Writer

PORTERVILLE, July 29.—To me, Porterville symbolizes an historical tragedy that has been lived, but not written. The heart of the fertile, well watered, peaceful Tule River Valley is like the sepulcher of a departed civilization, and the cradle of the new.

Here once were the medicine lodges and the camps of the Tule River Indians, a branch of the Yacut tribe. They have left history and a tradition. Their customs recall those of the Quakers for they were a peaceful folk, surrounded by hostile, predatory tribes. They suffered their villages to be pillaged and their herds and flocks to be driven away, but they would not kill.

Yet they were not cowards. Their lives were in the hands of the Great Spirit. They possessed rudimentary implements of agriculture and hunting, but none of warfare. If their villages were plundered by the warlike tribes east of the great mountains, and the Chowchillas north of the great river, it was the will of the Great Spirit that such things should come to pass, and they accepted without revolt.

THE PEERS OF ANY

They never ran away to save their lives. If the invaders approached a lodge, the fathers, the husbands, the brothers, all stood at the entrance. They might be killed first. I know of the record of no other people who carried the doctrine of non-resistance to its ultimate conclusion.

They were "poor, benighted heathens," but they were true to their ideals and their faith. They had but three commandments: Thou shalt not kill! Thou shalt not commit adultery! Thou shalt have no other gods before me! They never violated any one of them.

Their gods may have been false; may have been only a superstition; but they served the gods with a fidelity equalled by no Christian people.

Their medicine lodges now are dust, but the spirit of peace still lingers about the spots where once they stood. To destroy the altar is not always to destroy the god.

When came those centuries of peace, in the midst of cruel, blood-thirsty tribes, and in a warlike age? When came those morals of an unquelled community life, more stern than those preached by Moses, Christ or Mohammed? They are but one of the thousand mysteries of the past for which the present has no solution.

TRIBES ARE GONE

The Tule tribes are all scattered or dead. After the invasions of the Putes and the Chowchillas came an invasion of the white man. We may ascribe the blame to the Indians, but their medicine men cannot reply. The last of them is dead.

The term "medicine man" when referring to the Yacuts, as to many other Indian tribes, is apt to be misunderstood. They were not a priest. They had their doctors to prescribe for the ills of the flesh, while the medicine man prescribed for the ills of the spirit.

Where their camps once illuminated the blue night now gleam the white walls of prisoners. Churches rise where once stood the lodges of the medicine men. Business blocks occupy the sites of the wigwags. The soil now grows foreign fruits and flowers. It is ruthless; but it is progress. And progress, whether for good or evil, is not to be denied.

Porterville is so rich in legend that, while staying here, I have been made to feel that I am not living in the past. The vanished civilization is only seventy years away—just over the horizon. But it is left no written record, and is already farther from us than that of Memphis and Nineveh.

OLD BILLY BROWN

I talked for an hour with "Billy" Brown. He was one of the early peaceful invaders. He has seen four generations of his kind grow up about him—and the Indian civilization depart. He told me of an older man—still older than he—a white man who was rescued by the Tule from the bloodthirsty Putes. The boy lived until he was 14 years of age with his rescuers, and is still living, although approaching four score and ten.

I am sorry my stay is so short. I have never left the place without regret. I hope to return, to be able to talk with what is possibly the last link connecting the old civilization with the new.

Billy Brown told me how the orange came to Tulare county. In 1893 a friend of his came down to Porterville on his way to a new mining camp east of the mountains. He brought three oranges that had come to San Francisco by boat. The boy saved the juice of one of them, and his mother planted the seeds. They waited seven long, patient years for the first fruit. That was the beginning of an industry that is now first in Tulare county. Porterville alone shipped 222,222 cases of oranges last year.

AIR RACES TO GIVE UNUSUAL TROPHIES

Annual Orange County Show
Will Surpass Old Marks

Junior Exposition Planned to Intrigue Youngsters

Numerous Entertainments to Satisfy All Personalities

SANTA ANA, July 29.—During the coming week entries will begin to arrive at the fair grounds for the twelfth annual Orange County Fair, which will be held September 3 to 8, inclusive.

With the opening date little more than a month distant, the office of President H. A. Lake and Manager J. R. Hunt present a sense of activity that indicates that the fair will be bigger and better, as promised by the management.

A distinctly new departure is to be made. The fair will be divided into two parts. The first part will be the "garden beautiful" effect. In place of the formal walks and paths, there will be winding paths between the displays, bordered by hedges, ornamental and flowering bushes and vines. The landscape effect will also be carried into many of the exhibits themselves, and wherever practical, the exhibit will be given added points in the degree to which the exhibit carries out this motif.

GIGANTIC TENT ASSURED

What is said to be the largest tent ever to be used in a county fair in Southern California will house the feature exhibits, junior fair, entertainment features, automobile and industrial shows and women's department. This tent will be 1000 feet long by 100 feet wide and will cost approximately $125,000.

More than $125,000 in cash and numerous valuable trophies will be offered as prizes during the National Air Races and Aeronautical Exposition to be staged at the Mines Field near Inglewood from September 8 to 16, both inclusive. The affair promises to be on a par with the list of prizes, which means that it will be the biggest and most attractive aerial attraction ever presented.

Aviation enthusiasts of this city, who were instrumental in obtaining for Mines Field the air races and exposition, will meet on Wednesday evening with the air race executive committee at a dinner given by the Southern California Chapter of the National Aeronautic Association, to discuss plans for the national convention of that body to meet here during the races and exposition.

Frank Perini, who has been active in this city's participation in plans for the air races, will head the delegation. He is president of the Southern California chapter of the N.A.A., who will preside at the dinner. Capt. Hubert Wilbur, polar aviator, and Charles Warner of the Southern Cross to be present as guests of honor.

Important problems attendant to the national meeting here will be discussed, and entertainment plans outlined. Walter Ham, vice-president; Cliff Henderson, secretary, and Charles F. Willard, treasurer, will take an active part in formulating these plans.

The convention of the N.A.A. will be announced by the Southern California chapter of the N.A.A., who will preside at the dinner. Capt. Hubert Wilbur, polar aviator, and Charles Warner of the Southern Cross to be present as guests of honor.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY FAIR TO BE LARGER THAN EVER

POMONA, July 29.—Some idea of the magnitude to which Los Angeles County Fair, which opens this year on Tuesday, September 18, and continues through September 23, has grown, can be gained from the announcement made at the Pomona fair today that this year nearly 2000 prize contests would be held in determining the winners of the various classes of exhibits.

A total of $65,000 will be given in the contest. As a fair as a whole, it is the largest fair in California outside of the State Fair at Sacramento. The fair will be a total of $65,000.

To house the countless exhibits will require a tract of 600,000 square feet of space. More than 100,000 square feet will be devoted exclusively to plates and racks of fruits and nuts.

The fact that Los Angeles County Fair will remain open on Sunday for the first time has added greatly to the interest. This assures a record attendance while the entries already received clinch the fact that the 1928 exposition should prove to be the greatest county fair ever held in America.

PLENTY OF IRRIGATION WATER FOR RANCHERS

VAN NUYS, July 29.—P. C. Scott, head of the city water department offices here, says the water-supply situation is excellent, that reservoirs are full, and that from the present outlook San Fernando Valley ranchers will be given plenty of irrigation water for their needs. Almost every town in San Fernando Valley either has a small park or is making efforts to obtain one.

POLISH FARMER WANTS JOB

Paradise Officials Receive
Strangely Worded Letter
Seeking Employment

PARADISE, July 29.—Owners of farms are asked to consider for employment here, a "really clever laborer" who has spent seven years in "rural employment" in Poland, according to a letter received by Paradise officials from Abraham Hercyk of Wilno, Poland.

"Since seven years I am working in rural employment. I am 20 years old, descending from intelligent parents. But owing to the grown-worse situation of our farm I decided to emigrate. Therefore I beg to apply to your goodness in engaging me for your farm. I trust that you will be fully satisfied by my conduct. It will be no self-praise when I take liberty to assure that I am really clever and conscientious laborer."

Noting that the letter was not in English, the officials of the Paradise Light Department inquired of the Polish consul in Los Angeles for an explanation. The consul replied that the letter was a joke, and that the man was a Polish farmer who had been in the United States for some time.

PASADENA OFFICIALS ROW

City Director Charges That Board Usurps Duties of
City Manager and Endangers Government

PASADENA, July 29.—Speaking in no uncertain terms, City Director N. J. Shupe charged yesterday that the Board of City Directors is usurping the power of City Manager R. V. Orison to the extent of telling the City Manager "what kind of handicrafts he can buy." He also criticized the terms of the annual salary ordinance for city employees on the ground that the ordinance "tells the City Manager his own business and threatens the city-manager form of government in Pasadena."

In attacking the city budget, which will be completed within a few days, Shupe declared that it should not be passed until the Municipal Light Department is placed on the same basis as a corporation and be required to pay 6 1/2 per cent of its earnings into the city treasury. This is the tax which a private corporation would have to pay to the State and would not be the city $64,000 a year, he said.

Shupe called attention to the fact that the salary ordinance is thirteen years in length and in addition to setting forth the salary to be paid each city employee, describes the duties of the department heads.

Shupe also declared the authenticity of reports that the hotel was to be sold at $300,000 held by T. W. Warner of Pasadena. The hotel office said that this note does not cover any part of the hotel property, which is being included in the chain of United Hotels and that the notes of sale will not affect his negotiations with the United Hotels Company.

"Under the Mattoon Act a property owner able and willing to pay his share of the cost in cash is not permitted the privilege," Hornbeck pointed out. "Bonds must be turned against the improvement district to run for a long period of years, and much of the cost of the proposed

by J. CARROLL MANN

FOR MORE THAN A YEAR AFTER HIS ARMY HAD BEEN BROKEN UP BY THE BLOW OF THE AMERICAN FORCES IN THE PHILIPPINES, AGUINALDO, THE FILIPINO INSURGENT LEADER, REMAINED IN HIDING, FROM WHENCE HE DIRECTED THE OPERATIONS OF NUMEROUS BANDS OF GUERRILLAS. MEANWHILE HIS WHEREABOUTS WERE A MYSTERY, AND ALL ATTEMPTS OF THE AMERICANS TO CATCH HIM HAD FAILED.

WHEN ON FEB. 9 (1901), THE U. S. MILITARY AUTHORITIES RECEIVED WORD FROM PANTABANGAN, AN ISOLATED POST IN NUEVA ECJA, THAT ONE OF AGUINALDO'S TRUSTED COURIERS HAD VOLUNTARILY SURRENDERED HIMSELF AND THE CODE-DESPATCHES HE WAS CARRYING. THE MAN WAS SENT TO GEN. FREDERICK FUNSTON, AT SAN ISIDRO, FOR QUESTIONING.

THE GENERAL LEARNED FROM THE MESSENGER THAT AGUINALDO, WITH ONLY 50 MEN, WAS AT PALANAK, A VILLAGE IN NORTHERN LUZON. FUNSTON, WITH AN AIDE AND AN INTERPRETER, THEN UNDERTOOK TO DECIPHER THE CODE LETTERS THE COURIER HAD SURRENDERED.

AFTER A NIGHT OF HARD WORK, FUNSTON HAD THE KEY TO THE CODE. HE THEN SET OUT ON A QUEST TO A CERTAIN GUERRILLA HEADQUARTERS IN THE MOUNTAINS OF LUZON. ONCE THERE, HE FOUND AGUINALDO AND HIS FOLLOWERS. AGUINALDO WAS CAPTURED AND TAKEN TO A CAGE. THE IDEA OF HOW AGUINALDO WAS CAPTURED WAS THE SUBJECT OF A LATER ARTICLE.

running without effort. The close race of the heats indicated a wonderful performance by Bob Maxwell, who ran nicely in his first heat, but in the final he was forced into fourth place after leading about half the distance. The race of continental athletes at the final was surprising. Taylor and Cuhel looked too fast for Lord Burghley and Westman Smith, leading continental contenders.

ROBINSON DEFEATS DWORNIK

Darkhorse Upsets Favorite in Santa Monica Municipal Tennis Tourney

Russell Robinson, who learned to play tennis in China and has only recently set foot in the United States, provided the big upset of the second round of play in the Santa Monica municipal tennis tournament yesterday, scoring a three-set victory over Leonard Dworin, a local star of some prominence. The dark horse disposed of the favorite by scores of 6-2, 6-4, 6-4. He surprised Dworin by taking the first set and by a stubborn defense in the final, held off Dworin's last-minute bid for victory.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

(Por el Profesor R. Guerrero)

DEL DEPARTAMENTO ESPAÑOL DE "THE TIMES"

En el cuarto párrafo de mi "Plática" anterior, dije "tergúndalo" por "tergúndalo", y en el séptimo se lee "este infima ligas" en vez de "esta infima ligas".

Volviendo a aquellas frases de la Plática del lunes 9 del corriente, en las que he señalado unos improprios del gerundio. Desplazando los párrafos incoherentes para nuestros fines, dicen así: "A su biblioteca agrega treinta y dos centros de cultura, MERCIENDO especial mención al Instituto".

"El título está iluminado durante el servicio, UTILIZANDOSE en este un sistema de señales especiales".

"La pensión comprende las tres comidas, INCLUYENDO de ordinario el complemento de señales especiales".

"El viajero encontrará en el DOLÉ gozar de alojamiento independiente".

Según parece advertir, las primeras tres oraciones se componen de dos proposiciones independientes, entre las que no media ninguna de las relaciones que deben sustentar los dos miembros de una oración de gerundio. Esos gerundios no denotan ni condición, ni causa o razón, ni modo, ni oposición, ni simultaneidad, ni inmediata anterioridad respecto de lo expresado por el verbo de indicación personal; y, por lo tanto, las referidas oraciones constituyen inaceptables solecismos. Hay que reemplazar como dice y ejemplifico en mi Plática anterior, por dos proposiciones independientes separadas por una coma, o por alguna particular o expresión conjuntiva.

En la cuarta oración es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la quinta oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la sexta oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la séptima oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la octava oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la novena oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la décima oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la undécima oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

En la duodécima oración, el empleo del gerundio es aún más disparatado, el empleo del gerundio, pues, como he señalado el señor de la Peña, sólo puede construirse así verbal con un complemento verbal (cosa lujosa) cuando exprese un hecho transitorio; pero será incorrecta la frase si el hecho significase un estado permanente o un estado constante.

IN THE DISCUSSION OF THE NEW IN- SANITY LAW THE REPORT SAYS:

Practically every criticism that can be offered to this statute is answered by the Supreme Court in its recent decision in the Hickman case.

THE STATUTE EFFECTS A VERY DESIRABLE CHANGE IN THE FORMER PROCEDURE IN THAT IT PROVIDES FOR THAT WHICH AMOUNTS TO AN ADVANCE NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE OF THE DEFENDANT'S INTENTION TO RAISE THE ISSUE OF INSANITY.

There is, however, one respect in which the statute may be improved. That is the trial judge be vested with discretionary power as to whether or not the issue of guilt or innocence shall be disposed of in one trial or two.

The committee recommends this amendment to Section 1029 of the Penal Code. "Provided, however, that the court may, in its discretion, direct that the issue of insanity shall be determined by separate verdicts upon one trial."

On the subject of limiting the testimony of witnesses in an insanity trial, and the observation by the Lunacy Commission, the report points out how illogical it is to permit a lay witness to express an opinion on the subject.

GIVES UNBIASED OPINION

The plan of committing the defendant to the custody of the Lunacy Commission for observation, the findings continue, "gives both sides of the case an unbiased and authentic opinion respecting a defendant's mental condition."

Touching on the subject of expert testimony, the report recommends the enactment of a law providing that an expert witness shall file with the clerk of the court a written report of his findings and opinions not less than three days prior to trial, to make expert testimony as nearly nonpartisan as possible.

The report suggests the building up of a body of trained experts who could be called upon by court and counsel in criminal cases to make an examination and testify as witnesses without the payment of fees.

CORONER SYSTEM ANCIENT

The elimination of the office of Coroner and the substitution of an organization of trained medical men is more or less industrial.

IN THE DISCUSSION OF THE NEW IN- SANITY LAW THE REPORT SAYS:

Practically every criticism that can be offered to this statute is answered by the Supreme Court in its recent decision in the Hickman case.

THE STATUTE EFFECTS A VERY DESIRABLE CHANGE IN THE FORMER PROCEDURE IN THAT IT PROVIDES FOR THAT WHICH AMOUNTS TO AN ADVANCE NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE OF THE DEFENDANT'S INTENTION TO RAISE THE ISSUE OF INSANITY.

There is, however, one respect in which the statute may be improved. That is the trial judge be vested with discretionary power as to whether or not the issue of guilt or innocence shall be disposed of in one trial or two.

The committee recommends this amendment to Section 1029 of the Penal Code. "Provided, however, that the court may, in its discretion, direct that the issue of insanity shall be determined by separate verdicts upon one trial."

On the subject of limiting the testimony of witnesses in an insanity trial, and the observation by the Lunacy Commission, the report points out how illogical it is to permit a lay witness to express an opinion on the subject.

GIVES UNBIASED OPINION

The plan of committing the defendant to the custody of the Lunacy Commission for observation, the findings continue, "gives both sides of the case an unbiased and authentic opinion respecting a defendant's mental condition."

Touching on the subject of expert testimony, the report recommends the enactment of a law providing that an expert witness shall file with the clerk of the court a written report of his findings and opinions not less than three days prior to trial, to make expert testimony as nearly nonpartisan as possible.

The report suggests the building up of a body of trained experts who could be called upon by court and counsel in criminal cases to make an examination and testify as witnesses without the payment of fees.

CORONER SYSTEM ANCIENT

The elimination of the office of Coroner and the substitution of an organization of trained medical men is more or less industrial.

While his financial status would not warrant his buying a roadster, Luke didn't let it worry him, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. McInane. In a period of three weeks, he bought five and paid for them with

According to the complaint, Luke bought a car from Roy K. Hillman, Long Beach dealer, on June 21, last. He gave the man a check for the purchase price in full, $1088, and signed Raymond S. Wade. Hillman's embarrassment was great when the check was cashed at the bank and the name and both Luke and the car were gone. Then on June 26, Luke is charged with buying a car from J. N. Wright, used-car dealer in San Pedro, for which he paid with a bad check for $776. According to Deputy Melissac, trucks abandoned all of the cars and engines were recovered and returned to their owners.

hour after hour, Dematsis said, bound for a mainland in Dematsis's boat, a 4-horsepower craft, and were about eight miles out from the Palmarak of San Pedro when a smoldering ignition stopped their progress.

After trying to get the engine going, Dematsis and his crew were stranded helplessly.

By 5 p.m., one of the men on the boat, Dematsis said, "Farley" had attracted the attention of the U.S. Coast Guard cutter, and the cutter's captain, Lt. C. L. Sinder, ordered his crew to rescue the men. Sinder was taken aboard, but Dematsis and his crew refused to abandon the boat. They said they were the California Yacht Club, but they were not.

Several hours later the Lucky Strike was seen by the crew of a fishing vessel and was towed back Avalon.

Legal experts are covered by a lengthy treatise of the present methods resorted by the Coroner in investigating violent deaths, presents a report made last February to the Board of Governors of the Los Angeles acted upon, and offers the text of a proposed legislative enactment providing for the new system.

We are unanimously of the opinion that the system of coroners' juries suggested by the middle column and should be abolished, the coroner relate, "and the matter of investigation of deaths by violence be vested in the hands of a competent medical examiner, or board of such examiners, who shall have the command of the services of all police officers and the co-operation of the District Attorneys of the cities.

The primary and principal objective of this measure is to consolidate the powers and jurisdictions of the coroner and the medical examiner, and to provide for the investigation of deaths by violence in a more efficient and economical manner.

SOME PHRASES OF THE COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW

IT IS A privilege to have the opportunity to be in the presence of the community property law, which is a new and important phase of the law.

THE ONLY special feature of the law is that it is a new and important phase of the law.

THE ONLY special feature of the law is that it is a new and important phase of the law.

When a man marries a woman in California, he marries her debts, too, so far as their community property will go to satisfy them. This is the law, according to a ruling handed down by Judge McComb of Superior Court.

William J. Weber sued L. E. Wheaton in a justice court on a note signed by Mrs. Wheaton before she was married. Mrs. Wheaton, it appeared, had signed the note as guarantor for her son, Vera Henderson. Weber won in the justice court, and got judgment against Wheaton, along with Mrs. Wheaton and her son. Wheaton appealed.

Eighteenth Amendment in the lower House of Congress. If a vet President is elected, he may by appointment of justices of the Supreme Court endanger the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment itself. Hiram Johnson's votes in favor of wine and beer and weakening proposals are not reassuring to friends of the dry law, no matter what he may promise today.

Notoriously corrupt enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment in California was appointed and protected in office and Senator Johnson cannot evade responsibility for what he would do about confirmation in the Senate of Supreme Court appointments by a vet President is highly problematical.

Senator Johnson is making much of his championship of the Boulder Canyon dam and of his condemnation of the plan to make money, however, that he did not at the Kansas City convention and an executive whose administration will mark a distinctive cleavage between political machine methods and patriotic, humanitarian and constructive government.

FOR PROHIBITION
The second of my reasons for entering this contest is my interest in the maintenance intact and honest enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. I had the honor to be elected as the first and only prohibitionist in Congress. I felt it my lot to be the author of the War Prohibition Act and other dry acts, including the introduction of

AS TO COLORADO
Senator Johnson's support for the Swing-Johnson bill comprised the whole Tammany delegation in both Houses of Congress and of those Senators like Norris, La Follette, Shipstead, Walsh and Wheeler who are all history's heroes.

If Johnson really and truly supports Hoover this summer, what will these supporters of his bill do to him this winter in Washington? I think a Boulder Canyon bill secured through Tammany will be far too expensive. Tight money is the best is always hungry. California will be wiser to lean upon that great engineer and empire builder, Herbert Hoover, for this legislation than upon a Tammany bailing Senator.

Loyalty, loyalty! Loyalty to the President of our country is loyalty to the Constitution—including the Eighteenth Amendment! This is my platform.

City Manager Plan Praised and Assailed
Is the City Manager plan a success in Cleveland?
Attorney Frank I. Hogan in a letter to the Los Angeles City Council answered "Yes" and recommended that the voters be given opportunity to vote on the question of substituting a City Manager for the Mayor.

Benjamin F. Sacharow wrote: "The City Manager plan as it now exists here in Cleveland is the greatest factor in the lack of progress and stagnancy of Cleveland. The plan is far from popular here. The populace is clamoring for a change in government. The City Manager plan has given Cleveland a poor government as it is and not to consider a change if they would have a government by, for and of the people."

The City Council has taken no action so far to place the City Manager plan upon the November general election ballot.

CAN POLICE PROWL?
Lansdale Says They Do and Her "Kick" Will Bring Special Hearing
Certain police officers may be considered indefatigable by the department, but they are just "prowlers" to Mrs. A. Courtenay, operator of an apartment-house at 821 Maple avenue, and she wants to know how to go about having them "abated as a nuisance," according to her complaint to the Police Commission.

Her complaint follows: "We are being bothered by some of your men prowling through our house at all hours of the day and night. If they are looking for anyone, let them call at the office and we will be glad to do all we can. We have lost several roomers on account of them and don't care to have any more. Please inform me as to the best way to abate this nuisance. We have all respectable working people and try to keep only such in our house."

The complaint will be taken up at tomorrow's meeting of the Police Commission.

MILLS CASE ON TODAY
Proceedings for His Removal to Bay City Due to Start Proceedings to remove Dr. Edwin Mills alias Dr. Lester Parker, accused of impersonating a government officer, to San Francisco for trial will be started today before Acting United States Commissioner Turney.

Dr. Mills has long been sought by government agents for posing as a navy surgeon and thus inducing many persons to cash asserted fake checks. Indictments have been returned against him at San Francisco and San Antonio, Tex., and Seattle authorities, who caused his arrest, also want him on charges of passing bad checks in that city while appearing as a navy officer. He is said to have passed about $500 worth of bad checks at Seattle.

HUSBAND SAVES WIFE FROM JAIL OVER THEFT
Efforts of William L. Mooney to save his wife, Doris Mooney, were successful when Judge Judge Bullock suspended a sentence of $25 or five days in jail on a charge of petty theft. The Mooneys were charged with stealing a pair of women's oxfords valued at $10 from a downtown department store. Mooney pleaded guilty and was fined $25, which he paid. His wife asked for a trial, at which it was brought out that she, and not her husband, took the shoes.

MUCH REDUCEDMunicipal Judges Resume
Oven Benches WednesdaySuperior Court Cases to Be Given Prompt HearingHahn Praises Efficiency of Judicial Organization

All Municipal Court judges, now serving on the bench of the Superior Court, will return to their regular duties Wednesday, it was announced yesterday by Presiding Judge Hahn.

The improved condition of the calendars of the Superior Court makes this possible, Judge Hahn explained. For months the Judicial Council has had from five to ten Municipal Court judges working in the Superior Court on temporary assignment, to enable the upper court to arrive at a point at which cases might be heard within ninety days from application for setting.

CONDITION ATTAINED

This condition having been attained, the personnel of the Superior Court now can be reduced to a number of judges sufficient only to keep up with filings.

The release of Municipal Court judges from Superior Court today will, in turn, make it possible to return a large number of judges of the peace, who have been serving on the Municipal Court, to their own bailiwick.

After the vacation season, Judge Hahn announced, it will be possible to keep up with the calendar with forty-five judges. There are thirty-eight regular departments in the court. This it will be necessary to apply to the Judicial Council for only seven extra judges.

EFFICIENCY HIGH

"Los Angeles county now has one of the most efficiently organized courts in the country," Judge Hahn declared. "This condition is the result of two years' work. Judge Stephens started the movement toward reorganization and expansion during his term as presiding judge. It was forwarded by Judges Wood and Burrell. Immediate predecessor, Judge McLucas, advanced the situation to such a point that I have been able during the month since I took office, practically to complete the scheme. We have had as high as fifty-eight judges at duty at once. It gives me a lot of pleasure to announce the reduction in personnel, with resultant decrease in public expense."

MYSTERY
SLAYINGS
CLEAREDGuilty Brought to Justice
in Long-Standing Cases,
One of Eleven Years Ago

While a number of unsolved murder mysteries remain on the records of Los Angeles county, much work has been done by both the police and the Sheriff's office homicide details in solving crimes of violence committed in the county, it was pointed out at the Hall of Justice yesterday.

Under the direction of Dep. Dist. Atty. Thoms, head of the homicide department of the District Attorney's office, four old murder mysteries have been cleared up in the past year, the guilty persons having been apprehended, convicted and sentenced. One of the cases solved dates back more than eleven years, another more than five, a third four years and one was but a year old.

Among the four solved cases was the murder of Anthony Mastroianni. He was shot and killed in his home on August 20, 1916. John Conforti was arrested in Newark, N. J., on October 5, 1927, extradited by the District Attorney's office and was sentenced to San Quentin on January 4, last.

In June, 1922, Edward Mejia and Jesus Mejia, brothers, were shot and killed in a North Main-street pool room by a man known only as Tony. The mystery was solved in 1927, the man arrested and later sentenced to San Quentin.

The third case solved was the murder of Emma Hammond, shot and killed by her sailor lover, Domingo Villa, late in 1924. He was sentenced to San Quentin in March, 1928.

The last was the murder of M. Trofani in 1927, in a hold-up, which also cost Paul Othman, one of two bandits, his life. Norman Becker was traced around the globe and finally arrested in Nantucket, R. I. He now is in San Quentin.

Under Capt. Bright, the Sheriff's office homicide squad has solved twenty of twenty-five murders committed during the last year in the county.

Girls Disappear From Hospital After Accident

"Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, July 29.—Santa Monica police are trying to establish the identity of and locate two girls who disappeared from the treatment room of the local hospital following an automobile accident early this morning.

The girls, who appeared to be about 18 years of age, were found on the Malibu road near an overturned car, and were taken to the Santa Monica Hospital by a passing motorist. Mrs. M. Peabody of 3963 Marathon street, while the doctor in attendance was telephoning the two disappeared from the hospital. They previously had stated that they lived in Calabasas.

Mitchell said he did not know the girls but picked them up at Ocean Park and was giving them a lift as they said they wanted to go north on the Coast road. Apparently neither was seriously injured.

in film circles that Marilyn Miller,
New York musical comedy star, and Ben Lyon, screen actor, will not be married and that they have broken their engagement during his term as presiding judge. It was forwarded by Judges Wood and Burrell. Immediate

Since his contract with the Caddo Company has expired, the actor has been free-lancing. He now is considering two offers from New York stage producers, he said.

Since their engagement was broken, Miss Miller's name has been linked with several romances. Lyon has been in Hollywood a year since his trip to New York.

WILKINS TO TAKE ALONG
TWO PLANESArctic Flyer Planning
South Pole Trip Tells
More About Project

Two airplanes are to be taken on the expedition of Capt. Wilkins, polar explorer, when he embarks from New York enroute to Antarctic regions September 22, he announced yesterday.

The second plane, similar to the one which carried him and his pilot, Lieut. Eliason, over the North Pole last April, will be completed within a few days, he said. It will be equipped with six engines, making possible landings on land or water in the wastes lying between Graham Land and Alexander Island. The plane is under construction in the Lockheed factory at Burbank.

Capt. Wilkins said he has no idea who the pilot for the second plane will be. Lieut. Eliason is certain as first pilot on the scientific expedition, the explorer declared.

The monoplane which was used in the April trip is in Minneapolis. It will be taken to New York and will be picked up by Capt. Wilkins there.

Capt. Wilkins plans to make Deception Island his preliminary base on arrival in the Antarctic. The final flight across the bottom of the world will be made following preliminary cruises.

Stimson, retired capitalist who died
Saturday in Seattle, will be conducted in that city today, according to announcement by Los Angeles relatives yesterday. His death is of his wife a few weeks ago.

Mr. Stimson was 75 years of age and had been a resident of Los Angeles for more than forty years. He and Mrs. Stimson went to Seattle early this month for a visit with their son, Charles Willard Stimson. She died on the 16th inst., after a brief illness.

He was a director of the California Portland Cement Company and a member of the California Club and lived at 1849 Hill Drive, Eagle Rock. During the term of Mayor Snyder he served as a member of the Police Commission.

WILLIAMS
ORDERED
DEPORTEDEnglishman Who Asserts
Kinship to Secretary Davis
Held Here on Bail

Although Llewellyn Oliver Williams, 25 years of age, asserted that he is a nephew of Secretary of Labor Davis, an order, has been received by local Acting Immigration Director Garrity from the Department of Labor to deport Williams to England.

Young Williams was born at Merthyr-Tydfil, Wales, which is in the vicinity of the original home of Secretary Davis. The young man says he is a seaman. He was ordered deported after an investigation by immigration inspectors, because he overstayed his leave to enter the country and because he is likely to become a public charge.

Williams, a debarred and indigent, was held in the County Jail pending his removal to England.

"All I know," he said, "is that I'm to be sent back and I'd rather stay here in the County Jail until the time I leave. I could post bond for $500."
